Doch weichet, ihr tollen, vergeblichen Sorgen! Johann Sebastian Bach

But hence, you foolish, useless worries! My Jesus calls me: who wouldn't go?
Nothing that delights me belongs to the world. Dawn on me, blessed, joyful morning, transfigured and glorious, standing before Jesus.

Abide with Me arr. Brent Olstad

Abide with me, fast falls the eventide. The darkness deepens, Lord, with me abide.
When other helpers fail, and comforts flee, help of the helpless, O abide with me.

Almighty God, Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, Maker of all things, Judge of all men; we acknowledge and bewail our manifold sins and wickedness which we have from time to time committed by thought, word and deed against Your divine majesty, provoking most justly Your wrath and indignation against us. Have mercy upon us, most merciful Father for Your Son our Lord Jesus Christ's sake; forgive us all that is past, and grant that hereafter we may serve and please You in newness of life, to the honor and glory of Your holy name, through Jesus Christ our Lord. EVENING WORSHIP

6:15 PM Soli Deo Gloria

Prelude

Gott Sei mir Gnädig from St. Paul (Sung in German)

Felix Mendelssohn

Have mercy upon me, O God, according to Thy loving kindness: according unto the multitude of Thy tender mercies blot out my transgressions. Cast me not away from Thy presence; and take not Thy holy spirit from me. The sacrifices of God are a broken spirit: a broken and a contrite heart, O God, Thou wilt not despise. Then will I teach transgressors thy ways; and sinners shall be converted unto Thee. O Lord, open Thou my lips; and my mouth shall shew forth Thy praise. (Psalm 51)

Cantata No. 56: Ich will den Kreuzstab gerne tragen

Johann Sebastian Bach

II. Mein Wandel auf der Welt (Sung in German)

My wandering in the world is like a journey by ship. Grief, suffering and distress are waves which cover me and with death terrify me each day, but the anchor which holds me is the compassion with which my God often gladdens me. In this way He calls to me, "I am with you, I shall neither abandon nor neglect you!" And when the sea's raging and foaming comes to an end, then I shall step from the ship into my city which is the kingdom of heaven, where with the righteous I after many tribulations shall come.

III. Endlich wird mein Joch (Sung in German)

Finally, finally will my yoke again have to fall away from me and then I shall get strength in the Lord, then I shall have an eagle's nature, then I shall ascend from this earth and run without becoming weary. If only this could happen today!

* Prayer of Confession

O God our Father, we are gathered before You to worship You, awed by Your majesty, greatness, and glory, and encouraged by Your love. Come near and strengthen us by the work of Your Holy Spirit until Christ reigns supreme within us, in every thought, word and deed. Give us a faith that overcomes the world, works by love, and fastens us to You. In Jesus' name, Amen.

O let it freely burn, till earthly passions turn to dust and ashes in its heat consuming;

Singing in Spring

By Colin Howland, Music Director

Let the word of Christ dwell in you richly, teaching and admonishing one another in all wisdom, singing psalms and hymns and spiritual songs, with thankfulness in your hearts to God—Colossians 3:16.

Singing biblical truth with thankfulness is at the heart of Christian worship. Musical praise is nothing less than singing the truth about God, which he has given us in his Word, back to him in love and devotion. Throughout its history the Church's worship has been filled with music of various kinds. At the center is congregational song: psalms, hymns, and spiritual songs. But even as spoken prayer is voiced by the congregation and led by individuals, so have the sung prayers of the Church been offered by the whole church as well as choirs and soloists. So, while the main diet of music in the modern church is congregational hymns and metrical psalms, there is also a multitude of other musical forms which contribute to our musical praise.

Perhaps no other church music exceeds the drama of oratorio. In fact, the origin of the form, dating from the 16th century, is the setting to music of sacred plays. Oratorios come in a variety of shapes and sizes, and those that are on a grand scale are set for symphony orchestra, chorus, and soloists and may be performed with staging. The best examples for use in the Church are based on stories from the Bible, many of which have librettos taken entirely from Scripture. Such is the case with some of the most famous of these works: Handel's Messiah and Israel in Egypt, as well as Mendelssohn's Elijah and St. Paul.

It has been a common practice in the Church's history to have so-called "choral services." These are worship times in which the sung praises are predominantly led by the choir, but also include congregational song as well as the other elements of worship. For example, "choral evensong" is simply a musical version of an evening prayer service as outlined in the Book of Common Prayer. On occasion, Tenth has had a similar practice, including the annual Reformation Hymn Festival and Spring Choral Service.

This year's Spring Choral Service is taking place during the evening service on May 20. The children's and adult choirs will join to sing movements from several different oratorios including Haydn's Creation, Mendelssohn's Elijah and St. Paul, and The Apostles by Edward Elgar. The goal of such a service is not to parade our choirs before you, but for us all to come together to praise God through his Word. To encourage us toward that end, here are some of the texts which will be sung:

From Elijah

O rest in the Lord, wait patiently for Him, and He will give thee thy heart's desires. Commit thy way unto Him and trust in Him, and fret not thyself because of evil-doers (from Psalm 37:7).

From The Apostles

The Spirit of the Lord is upon me, because He hath anointed me to preach the gospel to the poor: He hath sent me to heal the brokenhearted, to preach deliverance to the captives and recovering of sight to the blind, to preach the acceptable year of the Lord (from Isaiah 61:1).

From St. Paul

O great is the depth of the riches of wisdom and knowledge of our God! How deep and unerring is He in His judgments! His ways are past our understanding. Sing His glory forevermore. Amen (from Romans 11:33).
